

Announcement—For Constable.

We are authorized to announce the name of PAUL PATTON for Constable of Arcadia Township, subject to the decision of the voters of said Township at the coming general election.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Dr. A. S. Pince went to St. Louis yesterday. He will return next Monday.

Circuit court will convene next Monday, and Sheriff Fletcher is putting everything about the courthouse in apple-pie order.

The docket for the coming term of our circuit court is not long, and a session of one week will no doubt dispose of all the business on hand.

No more ore will be hauled from the outside mines of the St. Louis Ore & Steel Co. until further orders. Hauling was discontinued last Saturday.

We have heard of a little trouble between two of our citizens, and there is a story about a smashed lantern, but we refrain from giving the particulars.

We have a few documents forwarded us for distribution by the State Democratic Executive Committee. Free to all, as long as they last. Call and get one.

We suggest to the city authorities that a few loads of gravel on Knob street, between the Presbyterian church and Madison street, would work an improvement.

A big rain Monday brought a north wind Monday night, and on Tuesday morning heating stoves were in demand. There was no frost, but the atmosphere was decidedly chilly.

The trees on the mountains are beginning to show the bare and yellow leaf, and soon November's winds will sing through their denuded branches. In other words, our winter's fuel must now be laid in.

Judge Russell yesterday afternoon brought in and presented us a sweet-potato measuring in circumference 20 by 24 inches, and weighing six pounds and four ounces! How is that for high, and who can beat it?

Last Monday was like unto a day in circuit court week. The Carey trial brought a multitude of witnesses, and many friends of the prisoner to observe the conclusion of the trial. A full account is given elsewhere.

For two weeks in October fog prevailed in the Valley—something heretofore unknown—and considerable sickness amongst children is said to be one of the results. Last week, however, the fog ceased, and the doctors think the health of the rising generation will improve.

Our old friend, M. P. Collins, Esq., of Crane Pond, handed us yesterday morning two June apples, the same being of the second crop of this year. They are fully matured and ripe—differing only from the ordinary June apple in being of elongated form, and seedless.

Carroll Smith, Esq., of Hogan Mountain, yesterday presented us with some fine apples and a "bowl" sweet-potato. It measured 15 inches by 20 inches round, and weighed four pounds and three ounces, after being out of the ground over a week. We'll have a "square meal" to-day, at all events, thanks to friend Carroll.

F. Rodach, Esq., Republican nominee for County Treasurer, desires us to inform his friends that he declines to be a candidate. His business relations are such that he could not, without great personal sacrifice, attend to the duties of the office if elected. Therefore, after thanking his friends for the honor and good-will shown him, Mr. Rodach withdraws from the race.

Chas. Muffey, a youth of about 20 years, visiting his uncle, W. T. Gay, last week, left suddenly Saturday without bidding goodbye. Next day when William wanted to dress up for church he couldn't find his new shoes. A further search showed the absence of a fine silver-mounted revolver usually kept about the house for the benefit of burglars. These articles may yet have been taken by Charley, but it looks a little "superstitious."

The authorities having ruled, contrary to former instructions, that the man who carries the mail between the depot and the post-office, must be present at the arrival of all mail trains, and put the pouches on the mail-car in person, Mr. Grigby has resigned his position as such carrier. The time for making bids for the re-letting of the contract expires to-day, and the sealed proposals will be forwarded to Washington this evening. Two or three bids have been put in.

Our readers will remember as item in this paper several weeks since announcing the resignation of Dr. Wm. G. Thomas, Democratic nominee for Coroner. He made that resignation "in favor of Mr. Grandhomme." In this issue, Mr. G. announces himself a candidate, and under the circumstances, we think he ought to, and will undoubtedly, receive the support of the Democracy of Iron county. He has made a good officer thus far, and is as good a man as could be selected for the position.

The railroad crossing at Pilot Knob is dangerous at best; but the employees of the railroad company make it extra-hazardous by switching cars and leaving them standing so as to obstruct the view of trains approaching from the north. Several narrow escapes of teams at this crossing are recorded, and on the day of the Pilot Knob celebration the writer of this barely prevented a disaster. Is there no law for the protection of the public against criminal carelessness on the part of corporations? Must life be sacrificed before action can be taken?

While some of the workmen (fourteen in number) in Tunnel No. 1 were pursuing their usual labors last Monday, certain indications caused them to vacate somewhat hastily. They barely made their escape when the whole of the third stop came down, crushing the heavy supports as if they were straw. It is said a mass of ore and rock 60 feet long, 40 feet wide and 10 feet thick came down. Happily no one was hurt, but the excitement for a while was intense. The carving in occurred during the "noon hour," when most of the men were gone; if it had taken place an hour later, great loss of life might have resulted.

HURRAH FOR THE LIGHT-RUNNING DOMESTIC SEWING MACHINE! It again played all competitors, and took the premium at the late Cape Girardeau Fair!

NOTICE.—After hard work, we have at last secured an expert Swiss watchmaker in the person of Mr. Jacob Keller, coming with the highest recommendations from London, Paris, Switzerland and America. We will guarantee work equal to Jaccard's and at half their charges. S. LOPEZ.

Mrs. Lopez has made a large addition to the main store building, which, when completed, will make it the largest business house in Southeast Missouri. She contemplates buying an immense stock of clothing for men and boys. Mr. George Lopez will start for Chicago next week in order to make the selection.

Daily Hack from Middlebrook to Graniteville.

The undersigned will run a hack from Middlebrook to Graniteville and return, commencing Monday, Oct. 13th. Will connect with railroad trains No. 1 and No. 4, leaving Middlebrook after the arrival of No. 1 at 12:30 P. M., and returning in time to make connection with No. 4, at 2:30 P. M. Fare each way, 25 cents.

CHRISTIAN OESTERLE.

IRONTON, Mo., Oct. 17th, 1882.

To the Voters of Iron County: GENTLEMEN—At the primary election held in July last for county officers, I was induced by numerous friends to submit my name for the office of Coroner of this county against my own judgment, as I knew that nearly if not quite all the tickets for the primary were already printed, and numbers of them sent to distant precincts in the county, my name not being printed there. And now that Dr. Thomas, the nominee, has positively declined to run for said office, my former, as well as many other, friends are urging me to allow my name to be submitted to the voters of the county for the same office at the general election in November next, and I have consented to do so, assuring the voters of Iron county that, whether elected or not, the result shall not change my feelings toward the people of the county.

JACOB GRANDHOMME.

The subject of the following paragraph was well known to many of our citizens, and his afflicted relatives possess the sympathy of all. The article is taken from a Vandalia (Ill.) paper:

"Robt' G. Todd, only son of Rev. H. W. Todd, died on Friday last, after a lingering illness with consumption, in the 22d year of his age. The funeral services were held at the parsonage on Sunday afternoon, Rev. F. M. Vantress officiating. The attendance was large, the floral tributes numerous and elegant, and the exercises solemn and impressive. Among the floral offerings were a beautiful pillow, with 'Robbie' in immortal letters, from members of the church; a broken column and a basket of white flowers from Dr. and Mrs. Higgins; a pillow composed of tube roses and geranium leaves, from Mrs. G. D. Jerauld; a cross of white roses from Mrs. Easline Harris; a wreath arranged from flowers, given by Mrs. Wm. J. D. Collins, and Miss Barnett; and other floral offerings from Mrs. D. C. McCord, Mrs. Craig, and others. Rev. Todd and family have the sympathy not merely of their immediate congregation, but of the entire community, in their sad bereavement."

Murphy's Experience in Ticket Raising.

A painter named Murphy, who had been working for several weeks for S. T. Gay & Co., last Saturday bought a ticket for Ozark, a small station about fifteen miles south of here, and departed on N. 1, Clark Hall, conductor. Before going he said that that ticket should carry him through to Little Rock. When Mr. Hall took up the ticket, "Ozark" had been erased, and "Little Rock" substituted, but in so rude a manner that his suspicions were awakened, and he questioned the passenger about it. The answers not being satisfactory, Mr. Hall at Piedmont telegraphed the number of the ticket to Mr. Thompson, the agent here, asking him if he had sold it, and if so, to what station. Mr. T., accordingly telegraphed Mr. Hall at Poplar Bluff the facts in the case, and Mr. Murphy was at once delivered over to Marshal Kolb of that town. The same night he was brought here and placed in jail until Tuesday morning, when he had a preliminary examination before Judge Dinger, which resulted in Murphy's being remanded to jail, in default of $700 bail, to await the coming term of the Iron Circuit Court, charged with forgery in the third degree.

The Battle of Pilot Knob.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee, held on October 11th, 1882, at Capt. Dinger's office in Ironton, a resolution was unanimously adopted directing the undersigned Secretary to "express, through the columns of the REGISTER, the warmest thanks of the Committee to the citizens generally for their liberal contributions; to the financial committees, of which Capt. H. M. Bradley and Daniel O'Donnell were respectively chairmen; to the Committee on Ground, of which G. W. Craine, Esq., was Chairman; to the Committee on Transportation, of which S. T. Gay, Esq., was Chairman; to the Committee on Music, of which E. D. Ake, Esq., was Chairman; to the Committee on the Evening Entertainment, of which J. T. Ake, Esq., was Chairman; to the Committee on Decorations, of which J. Grandhomme, Esq., was Chairman; to W. A. Fletcher, Esq., Chief Marshal, and his assistants of Ironton and Pilot Knob; to the St. Louis Ore and Steel Company, of which J. C. Simpson is General Manager, for the use of the grounds and other valuable aid given; to the Ironton Academy of Music Company; to the ladies who so energetically got up the supper; to the Committee on Reception; to all who, by their good will, liberality and enterprise, aided in making the celebration so grand a success—to all warmest thanks are repeated. By order of the Committee.

C. R. PECK, Secretary.

A Vexed Clergyman.

Even the patience of Job would become exhausted were he a preacher and endeavoring to interest his audience while they were keeping up an incessant coughing, making it impossible for him to be heard. Yet how very easy can all this be avoided by simply using Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Trial Bottles given away at the Pilot Knob Drug Store.

For the best Sewing-Machines, go to the Agency of the Genuine Singer, one door south of the REGISTER office, Ironton.

Passing Counterfeit Money.

The U. S. vs. Michael Carey, Oct. 13th, 1882. Examination before U. S. Com. Ziebart. Charge: Passing counterfeit money of the coin of the United States. Emerson & Edgar for defense.

The defense stated that Mr. Wm. Hyde, a material witness for the defense, had not yet been summoned; but expressed a willingness to go into trial, provided the Court would adjourn the examination so as to afford an opportunity to secure Mr. Hyde's attendance if he was not present when needed. The Court agreed to this, and the trial proceeded.

The defense demanded an examination of the affidavit on which the warrant was issued. This was refused by the Court, who declined to permit the defense to go behind the capias. Coleman Hill sworn: I know the prisoner. He passed a counterfeit dollar on my brother, Wm. Hill, on the night of the 2d of October, 1882, in the saloon of the Ironton House. I conversed with the prisoner once about it, and sent him word by Wm. Hyde to come and get it. Cross examination: I did not show Mr. Carey the coin. He said he did not know anything about passing the coin, as he had got money that day.

Wm. Hill sworn: I know the prisoner. On the night of the 2d of October, 1882, I was barkeeper in the saloon at the Ironton House. The prisoner passed a counterfeit dollar on me that night. He called for drinks to the amount of twenty cents. I gave the change and laid the coin on the shelf. I did not converse with Mr. Carey about the matter. Cross examination: I did not notice the coin at the time. I was pretty full that night. I have not had possession of the coin since that time.

George Carter sworn: I know the prisoner. Oct. 2d, 1882, in the saloon of the Ironton House, I heard him call for two drinks, and saw him give the boy a dollar in coin to pay for them. He had something in his hand that rattled like money, and laid the coin on the counter. I said I believed it was a counterfeit. I was sitting near the counter and saw the money, but did not examine the coin at all. Didn't notice anything out of the way in Mr. Carey's manner in laying down the money.

John Killalee sworn: I know the prisoner. In last May he passed a counterfeit fifty cent coin on me. I spoke to him sometime afterwards about it. I think it was melted up afterwards.

Court took a recess until 10 o'clock on Saturday morning, at which time the defense obtained a subpoena for Joseph Davis and Ellis Dillon.

A motion was made to discharge the prisoner, on the ground that there was no evidence to show that the prisoner had knowledge that the coin was bad and passed it intentionally to defraud. On this motion, Judge Emerson made an admirable speech. The Court overruled the motion on the ground that Coleman Hill had been defrauded of one dollar by Michael Carey; that the law presumes that the party who does an act knows what he does, and that the demurrer admits the facts proven here.

The trial proceeded. The defense called a great mass of testimony in respect to the general character of Michael Carey for honesty and industry. They gave a good character.

Ellis Dillon was called to impeach George Carter's testimony and Albert Stone to impeach the testimony of Wm. Hill.

The defense recalled a number of witnesses to prove nothing in particular as to the matter.

The defense put the prisoner on the stand, who, as usual in such cases, did himself no good. There was too much explanation. The Court took a recess until 9 o'clock on Monday morning, Oct. 16, 1882, at which time business was resumed.

Judge Emerson was sworn, who stated that "on Saturday Mr. Carey called on us, as his attorneys, as to whether he could have a hearing on that day. He wished to give himself up, and wished a prompt hearing, and did not wish to lie in jail to await a hearing. He stated that he was not guilty, and expected to be released on a hearing. He was told that a hearing could not be had that day, and that Monday would do as well. He left, promising to return on Monday, Oct. 9th; which he did."

W. R. Edgar was sworn, who confirmed the testimony of Judge Emerson, and added that when Mr. Carey came to his office he was sweeping out the office, and told Mr. Carey to sit down; but before the work was done Marshal Mace came in. "I told him we were just going to the Commissioner's office to surrender," Mr. Edgar continued, "which was done."

Morgan Mace was then sworn. Stated that he is Deputy Marshal of the United States, and had been Sheriff of Iron county two terms. "When I received the warrant to arrest Mr. Carey, I deputized Paul Patton to go with me to point out Mr. Carey. We went to the office of the Pilot Knob company on Friday and found that Mr. Carey was on contract work. We came back toward Ironton. Being near Mr. Reel's, Mr. Patton pointed out a man to me as Mr. Carey. He went into Mr. Reel's and I followed him and arrested a man as Mr. Carey. Mr. Reel told me Mr. Carey had gone to the Knob. A time-keeper of the Knob company told me the man was not Mr. Carey. Mr. Reel told me several times that Mr. Carey had gone to Pilot Knob. This was after 5 o'clock. I saw Paul Patton, and went to the Knob, where I arrested another man as Mr. Carey, but released him. I arrested a third man by mistake. On Saturday morning, in Ironton, about 9 o'clock, I learned that Mr. Carey had been in and given himself up; and inquiring, did not find him after considerable search. I deputized Dennis O'Leary, and gave him the warrant, about noon. He could not find him, and I spent that day and could not find him. On Sunday I heard of him as being at Pilot Knob and Middlebrook. On Monday I saw Mr. Edgar, who said Mr. Carey would deliver himself up that day. I arrested Mr. Carey at Mr. Edgar's office. Mr. Edgar consulted Mr. Carey, and we went to the Commissioner's office."

The testimony being closed, Judge Emerson addressed the Court, deprecating prejudice against the prisoner arising outside of the testimony in the case, and passing over the question of flight, came to the question of guilt in passing the coin, as a pretense to very shrewdly dodging all the points in the case, and making the best possible case for his client.

At the conclusion of the Judge's remarks, the Court took a recess until 1 o'clock P. M.

Monday, at which time business was resumed, and Mr. Edgar addressed the Court. His address was a law speech, cool and logical. He relied on the failure of the Government to show guilty knowledge and intent. His array of authorities was strong, and the speech was in good spirit.

The Commissioner conducted the case with great skill and patience, and displayed great knowledge of law and legal presence. The prisoner certainly had in every respect a fair trial, and was well defended. The review of the testimony by the Court was unanswerable. The prisoner was bound over to await the action of the U. S. Grand Jury.

The Commissioner stated that, in the course of the trial, he had been approached by four different parties to influence his decision in this case, and declared his determination to punish in future any party who so approached him.

The bail fixed was one thousand dollars, but the Court was willing if the prisoner could produce friends for less amount, to accept of them, even as low as five hundred dollars, and gave twenty-four hours to fill the bond.

The Commissioner stated that the reason why he did not punish the parties who approached him in this case, was because from their station in life he believed them to have acted in ignorance of the crime they had committed.

ORDINANCE NO. 27.

PROVIDING FOR LICENSES.

Be it ordained by the Board of Trustees of the Town of Pilot Knob:

1. From and after the 31st day of October, 1882, the following occupations are prohibited from being carried on in the Town of Pilot Knob and within one mile from the limits thereof, unless the persons intending to carry on such occupation shall first pay the license hereinafter stated.

2. Dramshop keepers and keepers of wine and beer saloons shall each pay a license at the rate of one hundred dollars per year, in quarterly installments of twenty-five dollars each, payable every three months in advance; and no license shall be granted for less than three months.

3. Keepers of billiard tables, pool tables, pigeon-hole tables, and all other gaming tables or devices shall each pay a license at the rate of five dollars per year for every such table or device, in semi-annual installments of two dollars and fifty cents each, payable every six months in advance.

4. Keepers of bowling or ten-pin alleys shall each pay a license at the rate of five dollars per year for every such alley, in semi-annual installments of two dollars and fifty cents each, payable every six months in advance.

5. Public shows, circuses and menageries shall each pay in advance a license of ten dollars for each and every day they exhibit. 6. Concerts, minstrels and variety shows, when an admission fee is charged, shall each pay in advance a license of one dollar per day.

7. Peddlers shall each pay one dollar per day in advance for the first five days, and fifty cents for each additional day. 8. The Town Collector is hereby charged with the collection of said licenses, and shall be held responsible for the collection thereof, and for his official bond.

9. Before any person may carry on any of the occupations hereinbefore subjected to license, he shall apply to the Town Collector or his license, and pay said Collector the amount due therefor; and if the amount be not paid within a reasonable time, not to exceed ten days in any case, the Collector shall bring a citation therefor in the name of the Town of Pilot Knob, before the Chairman of the Board of Trustees, subject to appeal as provided by law.

10. Every person carrying on any of the occupations hereinbefore made subject to license, without having first paid such license, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, in addition to the aforesaid civil action for recovery of such license, be subject to a fine of not exceeding twenty-five dollars for each and every day he may carry on such occupation without paying such license; to be recovered by an action in the name of the Town of Pilot Knob, before the Chairman of the Board of Trustees, subject to appeal as provided by law.

11. Any person failing to pay the fine, or that may be assessed against him, and the costs of the prosecution thereof (if the judgment be not appealed from), may be required to work out such fine and costs upon the streets, alleys or roads of said Town of Pilot Knob, or at such other labor as the Board of Trustees may provide; and he shall receive for such labor one dollar per day, to be added to the judgment against him; or he shall be committed to the jail of Iron county until the judgment be complied with, or till he be discharged in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Statutes relating to insolvents.

12. All ordinances and parts of ordinances inconsistent with this ordinance are hereby repealed. This ordinance shall take effect and be in full force and effect after the 31st day of October, 1882.

Approved October 16th, 1882.

F. H. JAQUITH, Chairman of Board of Trustees.
